PERMISSION TO PROVIDE APPROPRIATE PAIN RELIEF

* Pets can't tell us when they hurt, so it can be difficult to know when they are in pain. But since the perception of pain is similar for humans and pets, we assume any condition or injury capable of causing pain in humans is also capable of causing pain in pets.

* Pain is more than an unpleasant sensation. If left untreated, it can lead to suffering and harmful physical effects. Pain can actually interfere with the healing process.

* Our practice understands the importance of pain management and offers effective methods to meet your pet's specific needs.

* Administration of medication may be warranted before, during and / or after the procedure to reduce pain and discomfort for your pet and to promote a faster recovery.
